Background/Summary

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

(1) The present invention relates to smoking accessories providing an end-user with a turnkey solution; specifically, one designed with silicone chambers suitable for pre-rolled cigarettes and a one-hit pipe, an area for ground cannabis or flower, and a built-in area suitable for storage of a disposable lighter, encapsulated in a brand ambassador with a closeable head.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

(2) Cannabis end-users need a few things; a lighter, a cannabis cigarette, maybe a one-hit bat, a place to secure medicine. The majority of cannabis dispensaries world-wide sell each of these products individually, and often in pairs. It's not uncommon for an individual to exit a dispensary with a bag containing every item listed above. The Fatty Caddy Bowl in One is the first device of its kind; in that it accommodates each of the above elements—in a self-contained stealth device.

Description

BRIEF SUMMARY OF FIG. 1

(1) FIG. 1 is a frontal view of The Fatty Caddy Bowl in One. The elements of the invention are clearly labeled 1a. 1b. 1c. 1.d.

DETAILED SUMMARY OF FIG. 1

(2) FIG. 1 illustrates The Fatty Caddy Bowl in One, a brand ambassador supporting the normalization of medical and recreational cannabis.

(3) The plastic device is a smoking accessory, offering end-user cannabis enthusiasts with a turnkey and stealth solution.
