Description

(1) FIG. 1 is a front perspective view of a visual alarm indicator housing portion showing our new design.

(2) FIG. 2 is a front view thereof.

(3) FIG. 3 is a top view thereof.

(4) FIG. 4 is a bottom view thereof.

(5) FIG. 5 is a right side view thereof.

- (6) FIG. 6 is a left side view thereof; and,
- (7) FIG. 7 is a front perspective view of the visual alarm indicator housing portion operatively connected to an alarm assembly.
- (8) The visual alarm indicator housing portion depicted in FIGS. 1, 2, and 7 is transparent and has negligible depth.
- (9) The broken lines in FIGS. 1-6 show features of the visual alarm indicator housing portion that form no part of the claimed design.
- (10) The broken lines shown in FIG. 7 depicting the alarm assembly illustrate environmental structure only and do not form part of the claimed design or of a specified embodiment thereof.
- (11) As illustrated in FIG. 7, portions of the visual alarm indicator housing portion are not visible during use of the alarm assembly. Therefore, a rear view of the visual alarm indicator housing portion is not shown in the drawings.

Claims

The ornamental design for a visual alarm indicator housing portion as shown and described herein.
